H.C.R. 2006 Visual Design

This year's design was created by a Japanese artist, Mr. Senkō Takahashi. His desire was to express the genuine feelings of caregivers and care receivers and used a Noh mask of an elderly woman motif in his art work. In the recent development of medical and care technologies, it is the things represented by a person's heart that is ultimately of utmost importance which he has also tried to capture in his design.
